

Greg Kylo named Opposition Critic for Environment and Parks

SALMON ARM (September 10, 2020) – BC Liberal Leader Andrew Wilkinson has named Greg Kylo, MLA for Shuswap, as the new Official Opposition Critic for Environment and Parks as the BC Liberals made changes to critic roles today to focus on holding John Horgan and his government to account in key areas as the NDP government struggles to respond to the challenges of COVID-19.

“Our province’s billion-dollar tourism industry is built upon people coming to enjoy the breathtaking forests, lakes, and mountains we have here in B.C.,” said Kylo. “In recent years, we have seen the NDP administration stray away from tackling our environmental issues with a community-lead and science-based approach. We need an Opposition that holds this government accountable to their actions so that we can bring back a balance between sustainable resource development, environmental policy, and genuine community engagement. I am very much looking forward to advocating on behalf of British Columbians to preserve our parks and promote safe and viable solutions to preserve our environment.”

The critic role changes announced today build on the 13 letters and over 60 policy suggestions introduced by the BC Liberals over the last several months to help B.C. combat the effects of COVID-19 on people and the economy, and get the province back on track.

“Greg has been a champion for his community for years, and I look forward to seeing him bring that same passion and dedication to holding this government accountable in his new role,” added BC Liberal Leader Andrew Wilkinson. “Our renewed direction has been shaped by conversations with thousands of British Columbians in every corner of the province as we developed ideas and solutions to help people, non-profits, and small businesses that are all struggling right now. The NDP government has been all talk and no action, so the changes we've made today highlight that and build upon our momentum as we continue to fight for a plan that provides opportunity for all of B.C.”
